

The News-Herald.

OFFICE IN POST-OFFICE BUILDING

AUGUST 2, 1894

Talk up the Fair, in season and out. John Bowers is seriously ill with typhoid fever.

This will be one of the best Fairs ever held in Hillsboro.

Miss Ella Gabriel is the guest of relatives at New Antioch.

Ellis Lyle is about again, after a serious siege of rheumatism.

E. N. Stacy and wife, of Highland, were in our city Thursday.

Miss Huldah Le Fevre was a guest of Greenfield friends, last week.

C. E. Hixon and family have been visiting friends in New Lexington.

A. B. Cochran of the O. P. C. H. visited friends in Columbus, last week.

Miss Emma Cox is visiting at Athens, O., the guest of Mrs. W. C. Hudson.

Every indication points to an immense crowd at our Fair next week.

Ben Evans has brought back a ruddy complexion from his Frankfort farm.

Mrs. O. Morrow is entertaining her friend, Miss Maude Farrin, of Cincinnati.

Mrs. Annie Johnson is visiting her niece, Mrs. Emma Turner, of Orchard Grove.

The special attractions at the Hillsboro Fair are drawing cards, everyone of them.

Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Rayburn, of New Lexington, have been visiting relatives in this city.

Miss Gertie Pulliam has recently been visiting Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Robbins, of Winchester.

Dick Dean was one of Winchester's Sunday visitors. He has a host of friends in that vicinity.

Frank Collins and George Shepherd have returned from the Adams County Mineral Springs.

Cliff Phillips and his charming wife were guests of Hillsboro friends, Monday and Tuesday.

E. T. Rayburn and wife, of New Vienna, have been guests of friends here, within a few days.

John Spargur has returned much refreshed from his visit to the Esculapia Springs, Kentucky.

Mrs. John Duffy is entertaining her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Knox, of Springfield.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Copes and Miss Ella were guests of Miss Dora Beard, of New Vienna, Sunday.

Frank McKee, one of Port Williams' solid citizens, has been visiting friends here during the past week.

A. L. Robbins and family and Mrs. S. B. Long, of Winchester, were guests of friends here, a few days ago.

Ben Strain, Will Smith, and Misses Cora Kelly and Mabel Moore enjoyed last Wednesday at the Caves.

Mr. and Mrs. S. T. McMillin and their little daughter, were guests of his mother, near Wilmington, Sunday.

Dr. Arthur Noble and P. H. Edwards are expected home from their visit to the British Isles, in a week or so.

Dessie Clement, of New Antioch, gave a party Friday night, in honor of his guest, Frank Gabriel, of this city.

Mrs. Patton Jackson and daughter, of New Lexington, have been enjoying the entertainment of friends in this city.

There will be a celebration at Pricetown on Saturday next. A splendid time is assured, and the attendance will be large.

Ice cream festival at Somer's Chapel, Saturday evening, Aug. 11. Everybody invited to partake for the benefit of the Sunday School.

Nine-Tenths of the photographic business is done at Phil Weyrich's studio. Why? Because his work is the best and his prices the lowest.

George Stanley and family have removed to this city from Connersville, Ind. Mr. Stanley is a member of the new firm of Lefevre, Stanley & Co.

Branson Worley steps high, and does not care whether or no the Senate upsets the House. In fact, he has nearly upset the house himself. It's a girl.

There will be a musical entertainment in Stroup's Grove, Thursday August 30. Doors open at 8 p. m. Good order will be had. Everybody cordially invited.

Col. W. S. Downs, of the Connersville, Ind., Times News, the aggressive and leading Republican organ of that part of Hoosierdom, is in our city on business.

Frank Doggett is home from Cincinnati, on a short visit.

Miss Feekin Walker has returned from her Cleveland visit.

The greatest show at the Fair will come off on Children's Day.

In some parts of the county the corn is drying up for lack of rain.

Miss Bessie Wallace, of Chillicothe, is the guest of Miss Flora Foreman.

Miss Margaret Langley is enjoying a visit to her brother, in Greenfield.

Dr. Walter S. Rudisill has a caladium in bloom. It is a beautiful flower.

Milt. Wedding and Charlie Kerns were exploring the Caves last week.

May be there's a premium for you at the Fair. You can't tell till you try.

Happy Rogers has begun the erection of his handsome home on North West street.

Miss Mary Kirby, of Upper Sanpauky, is a guest at the home of Dr. W. R. Smith.

Mrs. Frank McCoy and her interesting little ones, were guests of friends here, a few days since.

William Galloway, with Mrs. G. and Master Perry, are here from Chicago, visiting relatives.

Eddy Richards, of Chicago, is enjoying a few days of vacation from business at the home of his parents.

Mrs. J. Frank Wilson and the little Judge, Willard, are at South Salem, visiting her mother, Mrs. Edmiston.

O. C. Wickerham, of Sinking Spring, and his guest, J. J. Amen, an Iowa banker, were visitors here last week.

The Epworth League will hold a dime social at the residence of Mrs. Pearl Insley, on South High street, Thursday, August 2d. All are cordially invited.

Mrs. Hy. Davis is still in a very serious condition. The doctors give few hopeful assurances and cannot tell for several days yet, what the outcome may be.

J. C. Rittenhouse is justly proud of his night blooming cereus. One of the blossoms came out a few evenings since. There are eight others that will bloom soon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Wood, of Leesburg, and Mrs. Chas. De Hass, of East Danville, were here Saturday, visitors at the homes of Samuel Brown, and S. T. McMillin.

Brother Garrett, our Prosecuting Attorney, has returned from a visit to his brother, Harvey L., at Covington, W. Va., with whom he has been enjoying a tiptop good time.

Judge Newby has notified reluctant and tardy litigants that he proposes to clean up his docket. They must have their cases ready for trial next term or they will be erased from the records.

State Game Warden Buntin, has ordered the release of all red birds kept in cages as they are as safe and valuable free as in captivity. He estimates that there are 10,000 red birds in cages in Ohio.

The snake has "Ching" hypnotized. He has been feeling bad ever since the rattler was brought in, but not as badly as the Gazette would have us believe. It's a singular case—no Democratic plurality about it.

Dr. N. B. Lafferty and family left Thursday for a tour through the Northern part of the State, expecting to visit Urbana, Bellefontaine and other places. They are driving through leisurely in the Doctor's carriage.

The Hillsboro School Board has employed Miss Harriett E. Tucker, of New York, as Supervisor of Music and Physical Culture. Miss Tucker bears a splendid reputation as an educator in the branches mentioned.

Hon. Ulric Sloan has been astonishing his Winchester neighbors with a new patent potato digging machine which yanks the tubers from the mellow soil as fast as a horse can trot, plays Yankee Doodle all the while, and never gets the back ache.

B. Hancock, the machine wizard, who can read every jot and tittle of a reaper and mower as easily as he can say the Lord's Prayer, is in our city. He is now associated with the McCormick Co. When you're hunting a tiptop good fellow you never want to go a past Hancock. He fills the bill exactly.

Among those of our citizens who took in the Greenfield Fair last week were the following: H. L. Wiggins, John Jolly, John Williamson, Harry Waddell, Frank McKeehan, Homer McKeehan, Hamer Hogsett, Ben Strain, Aylette Fullerton, I. H. McConnaughey, Fred Kelly, Ira Van Houten, Geo. W. Le Fevre and Dr. Le Fevre.

Of course, no resident of Hillsboro will fail to see the wonderful attractions at the fair, but there may be no improvement in assuring those who live at a distance, in the country, that they will never regret taking a day or two off to enjoy the many matters of interest. Don't fail to attend. And, don't neglect to bring the wife and little ones.

Miss Grace Pullen, of Chillicothe, is the guest of her friend, Miss Lizzie Burns.

A serious looking blaze at the home of Mal Elliott on Lilly avenue, Saturday afternoon, was extinguished by the hose company and water works. Loss between $400 and $500.

The Junior Christian Endeavor of the Christian Church, will give a lawn fete, Thursday evening, Aug. 2d, at the home of R. P. Roush, on West Walnut street. Delicious ice cream, cake and lemonade. Let every one come.

J. C. Spargur has purchased of Spargur & Co., their millinery department, and will have a magnificent stock of ladies' fancy goods, millinery and shoes. The work of invoicing the sale was completed yesterday. Success to J. C. and his business venture.

The Feibel Brothers announce in their display advertisement that they will give away a thousand tickets to the fair. Every purchaser to the amount of $3.00 and upward, during the fair week, will be given a ticket of admission. This enterprising firm is not only generous to its patrons, but full of commendable public spirit. They realize the importance to this city of making the fair a success.

The Hillsboro Military Band, is as its name indicates, a thoroughly military organization. Under command of that veteran National Guardsman, Will Cooper, it goes through the military evolutions with wonderful proficiency. It is part of their contract with the fair company that they shall parade the streets each day of the fair before marching to the grounds. This alone will be a treat to spectators. But, when we add to the street parade the rare excellence of the music, then, indeed, is there great reason to be glad that the Hillsboro Military Band will figure in with the fair.

Isma Troth and others have brought suit against Receiver Dittie, of the Citizens' National Bank for $11,000 said to have been borrowed by President Overman from the Lynchburg Bank. Six thousand was borrowed in October, '89; eight thousand, in December '92. Of this, three thousand was repaid in April '93. The case is in the U. S. Court at Cincinnati, having been taken there by Receiver Dittie, who will claim that Overman was not properly authorized to borrow the money. It bears substantially the same features as the Barrere case recently decided in the Common Pleas, here, by Judge Newby.

An heroic soul was laid to rest in beautiful Grandview yesterday. Seldom has mortal man known the suffering that Erskine Carson has endured for the past thirty years; few men are there who, during all that suffering would have undertaken to have lived a life of devoted philanthropy. And yet, this is precisely what Erskine Carson did. His hand, and heart and brain were always foremost, at Hillsboro, in all good work; his interest and devotion could always be accounted sure, in every commendable undertaking. Hillsboro will mourn him, and those who knew him best will mourn him most.

Among those who accompanied the remains to Chillicothe yesterday was a gentleman by the name of Kelly, a merchant of the place, who had had considerable business about the freight office, when Erskine was station agent for the B. & O. S. W. R. Erskine was irritable at times, and he and Kelly gradually fell apart, and to that degree, finally, that they hardly spoke to one another.

One day business called them to Cincinnati together, and at the Cincinnati depot it became necessary for Carson to dress his wound. He asked Kelly in to look at it, and Kelly, hesitatingly consented. When he saw the dreadful gaping wound which had kept Carson on torture's rack for thirty years, tears came into his eyes, and reaching out his hand he begged the hero's pardon.

"Hereafter," said he, "you can say to me what you please, and if I complain, or resent it, I'll tell me to the ground. How you have kept your senses through all that torture, I cannot conceive. Surely, no decent man can complain that you occasionally lost your temper."

And from that time on, up to the hour of his death, Erskine Carson had no more devoted friend than Lon Kelly.—Leader Gazette.

The Reduction in Rates to Michigan Points.

The Cincinnati, Hamilton & Dayton Railroad have arranged to make special low excursion rates to Michigan points; tickets to be sold for all trains of Tuesday August 14th, good returning any time within twenty days. These tickets will be first class, good on any train of the date named, and will be sold at half rates for the round trip, the object of this being to accommodate those whose vacations do not extend longer than two or three weeks, and at the same time familiarize the public with the beauties and health giving qualities of the Michigan resorts. This is an opportunity which can not be ignored by invalids, or by tourists who are fond of fishing, hunting, boating or any of the numerous pleasures of outdoor life.

For full information, tickets, etc., call on any C. H. & D. ticket agent or address D. G. Edwards, Gen'l Pass. Agt., Carew Building, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Jack Uhrig arrived from Columbus, Tuesday evening, on a visit to his parents.

Guy Kennedy has returned from the Adams county Mineral Springs with an appetite like a saw mill.
